“The International Town Health Care Room”

Hello!

“The International Town Health Care Room” is the department for health promotion organized by nursing care teachers at the Research Institute of Nursing Care for People and Community at the University of Hyogo.

The department contributes a place where a foreigner living in Japan can feel free to talk about anything, including their life or mental troubles. It is based on the spirit to “Sustain and promote the health for those all over the world,” which is advocated by World Health Organization (WHO). At “The International Town Health Care Room,” the staff measures blood pressure, body fat percentage, height, body weight, and bone density. They will also give various consultations about health for all ages ranging from children to the elderly.

It is not necessary to apply in advance.

Everything is free of charge.

“The International Town Health Care Room” is supported by The Akashi International Association.

& It is supported by The Rotary International District 2680 The Rotary Club of Akashi West
